I play a lot of shoot em ups and I must say that I am not particularly charmed by this one. It is very difficult but in a way that seems not the player faults. Just Bullet curtains and a very unwieldy rotating aim-able weapon. I'm going to give it more time and see if something opens up. it is such an affordable title as well I'd feel silly playing it. I know this is not supposed to be Rolling Gunner or Dodonpaichi but it could use some balancing and tweaking. Nonetheless I respect the effort and want to support shoot em ups so developers such as these can further refine their process and provide better products in the future. Admirable effort and certainly a challenge for those looking for it.
